Developer The Dermot Company hosted the grand opening of MODA, a new, modern and fashionable 346-unit rental building in Jamaica. Celebrants included Queens Borough President Helen Marshall, Councilmember James Gennaro and Kyle Kimball, executive vice president, NYC Economic Development Corp. Pictured on the open air roof deck of MODA are teams from The Dermot Company, along with teams from their partners in the project, Community Board 12, FX Fowle Architects, Bovis Lend Lease and Bank of America, along with Helen Marshall and Kyle Kimball.
